DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of USPN 6,528,755 to Grewell et al and in view of USPN 5,408,572 to Kriege. AAPA discloses well known laser welding (Disclosure Figures 1 and 2, Disclosure Specification Background of the Invention), but does not describe instant claimed output light converging features. Grewell et al disclose known light guide means for controlling output light for laser welding. Kriege disclose (Figures 2 and 3) well known cone shaped light emitting units. The use of the well known cone shaped light emitting unit combined with the AAPA light guide would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because laser beam control is well known as described by Grewell et al and because the tapered unit output control is very well known in the art.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed November 08, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that Kriege increases the physical width of the beam. This argument is not persuasive. Kriege describe (column 4, lines 47-57) "the emission characteristic of a light-emitting unit according to the invention is essentially determined by its geometry, i.e., its dimensions and angles, as well as by the emission characteristic of the feeding lightguide and the geometrical arrangement of lightguide and light-emitting unit relatively to each other." Control of light output by changing of shape of the optical device in order to produce exiting light not having outward dispersal in a fan or cone shape would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because the dispersal is well known (AAPA) and the control is well known as disclosed by Kriege.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. JP2-55303, JP02000107879A, and JP02003071583A disclose laser cutting and machining apparatus and methods comprising shaped light guides. Ascher, Stephens, and Davenport et al describe light guides.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1725

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
